PROJECTS

Parkly

Live Site | Github

Application for users to rent or rent out parking spots in densely populated areas using MongoDB, React.js and google maps Api.

- Designed a detailed wireframe of the application to ensure clear instructions when building the components.
- Implemented Chakra Provider and tab functionality for the authorization sign in/login modal, enhancing ease of access.
- Incorporated an options drop down menu allowing users to select applicable data when creating a new spot to rent out.

Jukebox

Live Site | Github

A Spotify app clone that enables users to stream music, create playlists and explore new music using Rails, PostgreSQL, React, Redux, React Player, AWS and CSS.

- Assembled CRUD functionality allowing users to create playlists to personalize their experience with songs they enjoy.
- Integrated AWS and React Player to store and enable seamless listening to favorite songs.
- Implemented a search algorithm optimizing search times based on the search query.

Tyrant Tank

Live Site | Github

Recreation of the classic Tanks game to provide an enjoyable gaming experience using React, Redux and CSS.

- Employed keystroke detection to control the movements and firing ability of the tanks.
- Leveraged collision detection to determine when the bullet hits either the opponent or the terrain.
- Incorporated physics on the bullet when fired to account for the effects of gravity.
